New Aerial Blows To Soften Up Italy Struck By Allies

Weather Conditions Cause Halt To Part Of Bombing Program

TERRIFIC DAMAGE IS SEEN IN ITALY

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS in North Africa, Sept. 2.—New aerial blows to soften up Italy for invasion were disclosed today by Allied headquarters.

Inclement weather grounded northwest African daylight raiders yesterday, but the night before British and Canadian Wellingtons poked deep gashes into the averse communications network near Naples crippling traffic in that area.

Four-thousand pound bombs made twisted wreckage out of railroads, freight sidings and electric lines. Fires lighted the sky for scores of miles around.

Weather Unfavorable
Dawn for the first time in two months broke so unfavorably that heavy and medium bombers were unable to take off and continue the Wellington's pattern.

However, American Boston bombers swept across the Italian toe to blast the main target there. The radio station at Cape Spartivento, while Curtiss Warhawks took a sideswipe at southern Sardinia.

Zinc works at Iglesias were smashed by five direct hits, while a factory at Genessa was severely strafed. No enemy fighter opposition was encountered.

Other Allied bombers flying from bases in the middle east raided the Grottaglie network of airfields near the Taranto naval base on the Gulf of Taranto on the southeastern coast of the mainland.

Photo reconnaissance disclosed that Wellingtons in their night raid Sunday on the Civitavecchia railway yards which followed a daylight attack by South African air force Mitchells, shattered a wide area, including half a railway station.

PA NEW OBSERVES
Estimate of the state planning board is that Lawrence county population is 97,829, an increase of about 1,000 since the 1940 census.

South Mill street bridge over the Neshannock creek is again blocked because of some repairs being made and bus service is again delayed, patrons of the Highland and Mahoningtown routes have discovered.

Some of the 1942 auto tags still serving on trucks and autos are beginning to look much the worse for wear. Next year the plan calls for one new tag, instead of attempting to make the tags last another year.

Honor rolls are in evidence in many localities around the county and in numerous sections of the city, many new ones having been erected during the summer. New Castle and Lawrence County now have thousands in the armed service.

Pa New is informed that the epidemic that killed many of the silver birch trees in this area, appears to be noticeable in other districts in this part of the country outside Pennsylvania.

Signs are appearing frequently throughout the city, designating location where stirrup pumps assigned to the OGD are now located ready for emergency use.

With the great part being played in the present war by radio, Pa New is reminded that during the

See Move To Force Jap Fleet To Fight

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIGIE
(Written Especially for International News Service)

Chief significance of America's raid on the Japanese base on Marcus Island is its indication that the U. S. fleet in the Pacific has been so reinforced that it is able to go after the Mikado's home fleet almost in its own back yard.

Marcus is only about 1,000 miles from Nippon's main islands, while it is approximately 3,000 miles from the nearest U. S. major base at Hawaii. That means that the U. S. naval task force that bombed and shelled Japan's Marcus Island installations had to assume a three to one logistical handicap.

Large Force Used
According to Japanese radio reports as commented upon by U. S. authorities in Washington and Pearl Harbor U. S. bombers came over in the Marcus operation in waves and in large numbers. That would indicate that there were at least two carriers present, probably consisting of several fast battleships, numerous cruisers and destroyers.

It is not likely that such a force would have been risked unless an even bigger naval force had been within supporting distance. And to support a group of American fighting ships within 1,000 miles of Tokyo would call for practically the whole U. S. Pacific fleet prepared to battle against almost all of the heavy forces of Japan. This in turn means that our navy feels that it can now force a fight almost within sight of Nippon's shores.

That represents a revolutionary change since the navy's all-time low

Point Values For Some Meats Cut
OPA Increases Butter From 10 To 12 Points Per Pound

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The Office of Price Administration today passed on to consumers the benefits of an improved meat supply by lowering September point values on most lamb and bacon cuts, sirloin steaks and rib roasts.

In announcing the changes, effective Sunday, the OPA reported that the overall meat supply this month would be seven per cent larger than in August. The action followed suspension of slaughtering quotas throughout the nation by the War Food Administration.

Offsetting this cheerful news somewhat was the announcement that peaches, peaches and apples will cost the housewife more this month, but butter point values also are raised. Butter advanced from 10 to 12 points a pound.

Bacon Points Lower
An increase of 10 per cent in lamb and mutton supplies for September allowed point values reductions of from one to two points per pound for chops, roasts, steaks and other cuts.

The principal adjustment in the pork category, where production is up approximately 13 per cent, came in the bacon line.

All varieties of bacon were slashed two points per pound. Bacon rinds

Pittsburgh Woman Clubbed To Death
Police Seek Husband After Body Of Housewife Is Discovered

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—An attractive 30-year-old Pittsburgh housewife was discovered beaten to death today in the living room of her home, a murder mystery, "The Singing Dead," lying next to her semi-clad body.

Police launched an immediate search for Carmen Marmarosa, 43, well-known local entertainer, who is said to have quarreled violently with her husband, shortly before her battered body was found by the couple's son, Robert, aged nine, lying in a pool of blood.

Homicide detectives said Mrs. Marmarosa had been clubbed to death with an iron smoking stand. A stocking wound around her neck was too loosely tied, they said, to have choked her.

Young Robert started the search for his father when he told questioners his parents had quarreled in the middle of the night and then retired to separate rooms.

Later, the boy said, "I went through the kitchen and started upstairs. Then I saw my mother in a pool of blood."

The youth said his parents roared frequently, "sometimes over nothing at all."

Falls In Leap
Pittsburgh, Sept. 2.—A 43-year-old barber wanted for bludgeoning his wife to death today attempted to evade capture by jumping from a bridge into the Allegheny river but was fished out by police and placed under arrest.

Detective C. J. Letzkus said the prisoner, Carmen Marmarosa, 43, well-known local entertainer, who is said to have quarreled violently with her husband, shortly before her battered body was found by the couple's son, Robert, aged nine, lying in a pool of blood.

Taken to Mercy hospital, Marmarosa kept repeating "she's dead, she's dead. I know she's dead."

Allied Fighters Shoot 36 Planes Down In Battle

Japs Lose Heavily In Fierce Clash In Northern Solomons Area

OTHER INSTALLATIONS OF JAPS HAMMERED

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS in Australia, Sept. 2.—A fierce aerial battle in which Allied planes shot down 36 of a force of 80 Japanese fighters during a heavy bombing assault on the Kahlili air-drome on Bougainville island in the northern Solomons was announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters.

The communiqué disclosed that American and Australian jungle troops besieging the Jap base at Salamaua, New Guinea, are closing in from the coastal area. Previous report placed Allied troops at less than a mile from the Salamaua air-drome.

Ships Also Bombed
The assault on Bougainville was the heaviest of a series of widespread attacks on Jap bases and supply lines in the southwest Pacific, including the bombing of an enemy destroyer and an 8,000-ton cargo ship of New Ireland. A Jap destroyer was reported strafed in the same waters the day before.

Medium bombers destroyed or damaged 10 enemy barges off Cape Gloucester, New Britain. The communiqué reported 12 barges destroyed in the Huon Gulf area of New Guinea by naval craft during the last week of August.

Only six Allied planes were lost

ILLINOIS TOWNS DELAY OPENING PUBLIC SCHOOLS
(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Prevalence of infantile paralysis caused postponement today of the opening of schools in two suburban towns from Sept. 7 to Sept. 13.

Twenty-five schools in Cicero, with 13,000 pupils, will be affected. The J. Sterling Morton high school, which serves both Cicero and Berwyn, also will delay its opening until Sept. 13. More than 8,000 students attend that school. Grade schools in Berwyn will remain closed.

Dr. Herman B. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health, warned that there was no evidence that the infantile paralysis epidemic had begun to subside.

Yesterday's 39 new cases in Chicago and county brought the total since July 1 to 514. There were 46 deaths in that period.

CUPID AGELESS
MERCER, Sept. 2.—"Never too old for love" is the theme song of Mrs. Daisy Calhoun, R. D. 1, Sharpville, and Cary Ellis Mitchell, Newton Falls, O. The couple appeared at the clerk of court's office yesterday afternoon and filed an application for a marriage license.

Churchill At White House

Resumes Discussion Of War And Post-War Plans With President

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—In the seclusion of the White House President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill today began their momentous discussions of the peace that will come after an allied victory is won.

The discussions are wholly informal, and the two leaders of the English-speaking democracies during the next four days are expected to chart the broad outlines of the hoped-for post-war world.

The groundwork laid down during the next several days, while the British premier, his wife and daughter May, are White House guests, probably will form the basis for tentative proposals that will be laid before Soviet Russia in the forthcoming tripartite conference between representatives of the United States, Great Britain and the Soviet Union.

GOVERNOR OF VATICAN CITY ON WAY TO U. S.
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—It was learned authoritatively today that Signor Enrico Galeazzi, governor of Vatican City, is enroute to the United States.

The Papal representative ostensibly is coming to this country to arrange for the shipment of food and other civilian necessities to Vatican City. However, there is a possibility that he may be received by President Roosevelt.

While there is no reason to believe he is carrying any special message from the Pope to the President, it would cause no surprise in diplomatic circles if he should take advantage of the opportunity while in this country to emphasize Pope Pius' desire to see Rome recognized by the Allies as an open city.

Book Fine, Owed Ten Years, Paid
Today a library patron who has carried on his conscience the guilt of a fine incurred at the public library ten years ago walked in and paid off his debt.

This honest man walked up to the library desk, stated his indebtedness, and even when no record of any sum owing was found, followed through. (Unpaid fines at the library are outlawed and no record of them kept after eight years.)

Taking two dollars from his wallet he said he wanted to pay off even if his name wasn't on the books handed the bills to the librarian in charge, wished her good day and walked out, a debt-free man.

Library finances are looking up.

Japanese Mainland May Soon Be Bombed

By JACK VINCENT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—New bombing raids on the Japanese mainland, coupled with heavy blows at near-by Nipponese naval bases, were predicted today after a U. S. carrier task force raided the Marcus Islands, only 1100 miles from Tokyo.

Virtual navy confirmation of Japanese radio reports that American forces had bombarded Marcus island from the sea and air placed the presumably powerful navy task force within quick striking distance of several other major Japanese bases.

Other Bases Likely Hit
Although the navy withheld details of the raid because of the necessity for the task force to maintain radio silence, it was believed possible in Washington that navy units struck at other Jap bases, possibly Wake island or Bonin island and perhaps as far east as such enemy strongholds as the Philippines.

The U. S. task force, with the raid on the Marcus Islands, was daring Japan's home fleet to come out and fight. The Jap radio, in describing the attack, said that wave after wave of planes was sent across the islands to bomb enemy positions there.

Normally, a first line U. S. carrier carries between 80 and 100 planes. (Continued On Page Two)

Probe Woman's Claim In WAC Murder Case

Indianapolis Mystery Takes New Turn With Woman's Story

BELLBOY IS HELD UNDER $2,500 BOND
(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 2.—A woman, allegedly intoxicated, who said she killed a WAC Corporal Maama Little. Ridings was questioned by police today.

Entering a taxicab in the downtown area early this morning, Marie Simpson, 27, who was accompanied by John Wimpsett, 18, and an unidentified deaf mute, demanded that the driver take her to police headquarters.

"I killed the Ridings woman and I want to give myself up," she screamed to the driver. She told police that she had known Robert Wolfington, 23-year-old bellboy suspect in the brutal murder, for three years.

Both the Simpson woman and Wimpsett were jailed on charges of drunkenness and vagrancy.

Important Figure
Wolfington was considered an important figure in the investigation because he was one of the last persons to talk with Corp. Ridings before her body was found on the floor of her room at the Claypool hotel.

It was learned by the coroner's office that Wolfington, who was discharged from the navy for physical reasons and who is subject to seizures, attempted to commit suicide in a downtown restaurant July 13, 1942. City hospital records show that he was in that institution for six weeks at that time for drinking an undetermined amount of "lye."

The suicide attempt was made soon after the bellboy separated from his wife.

"I have no one now and no one cares for me," Wolfington said to a (Continued On Page Two)

U. S. BOMBERS HIT CENTRAL BURMA

(International News Service)

NEW DELHI, Sept. 2.—Heavy attacks by American B-25 Mitchell medium bombers on Japanese-controlled railroad installations and communications in Central Burma were announced today by U. S. 10th Air Force headquarters.

At Hsipaw, direct hits were scored on the railway tracks and bombing of cliffs nearby was believed to have caused a landslide blocking tracks.

Rolling stock was destroyed and a large explosion was set off during a raid on the railway yards at Ywataung, where engine revetments were damaged and an engine shed received a direct hit.

The Mitchells' bombs ignited a huge fire at Sagaing, where smoke and flames rose to a height of 5,000 feet.

Several buildings were demolished at Monywa.

All the attacks were carried out Wednesday.

NAZI PARIS RADIO FORECASTS FRANCE INVASION SOON

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Nazi-controlled Paris radio today predicted that an Allied invasion of France is imminent, with the current aerial assault only "a forerunner of things to come."

Robert Beauplan, political commentator of the station, asserted: "The moment is approaching when an Anglo-American invasion armada will cross the channel and disembark its armies on the French coast. Two gigantic armies will come to grips on French soil in the near future and Frenchmen will witness far more vicious battles than anything experienced in 1940."

Nazis Rush Reserves To Smolensk Front After Suffering Big Losses

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Sept. 2.—German reserves, rushed to the Smolensk front, were thrown into battle immediately on arrival today in a desperate attempt to halt swiftly-advancing Red army spearheads now within 37 miles of that Nazi key to the central and southern fronts.

To the south, Russian columns continued to advance into the upper Ukraine from captured Rylsk and Glukhov towards the vital companion base of Bryansk following bitter fighting in which 2,400 Germans were killed and 779 prisoners were taken in the last 24 hours.

Plunge Into Donets
On the southern front, victorious Russian forces followed up completion of the Tanager victory by plunging deep into the Donets Basin from the newly-won industrial town of Krasny-Luch and the railroad center of Shterovka, respectively 50 and 60 miles from Stalino.

(Describing the Soviet breakthrough of the Germans' "Magnet Line" in the Donets, the Moscow newspaper said the whole Nazi defense system became dislocated when Soviet motorized infantry and cavalry attacked on the flank and from the rear.

(The Izvestia account, contained in a Moscow dispatch to London, said the enemy command lost its grip on the situation early in the operation and that "fighting was bitter, as the figure of 35,000 German dead shows.")

Nazi Losses Huge
"Enormous losses in manpower and equipment sustained by the Germans in the area of Tanager have compelled them hastily to transfer new units to the south," the Soviet midnight communiqué said. "Our air force is inflicting incessant blows on these enemy troops that are being moved up to the front line. ### Tokyo Radio Warns Japs To Expect U. S. Bombs On Mainland

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Tokyo radio, in a domestic broadcast reported today by the Office of War Information, again warned the Japanese people that the U. S. naval bombardment of Marcus Island foreshadowed the "bombing of the Japanese mainland" and appealed for greater efforts to increase the nation's "fighting strength."

The "serious tone in which the broadcast evaluated the attack contrasted sharply with efforts by the Japanese propaganda agency Domei to convey to the outside world the impression that the Marcus Island operation was only of a "nuisance" variety.

While Domei described the attack as merely a sporadic "guerrilla air raid," the domestic radio told the Japanese people:

"We must not permit ourselves to forget that the intention of the enemy, which suddenly launched the raid, was not that of guerrilla warfare."

The broadcast warned that "accurate plans were being made for bombing the Japanese mainland."

State Population Is Over 10,000,000
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 2.—Pennsylvania's permanent population passed the 10,000,000 mark last year, the State Planning Board announced today in releasing an estimate of changes since the 1940 census.

A gain of 144,317 persons since the last census was shown by the board's estimate of 10,044,397, making Pennsylvania the second state in the union to reach the 10,000,000 population, the other being New York.

The population changes, listed as of August 1, 1942, were irregular in Lackawanna county which lost 28,027, while the greatest increase was in Philadelphia, where 59,927 were added.

GIBRALTAR CONCENTRATION
(International News Service)

CAPT. McMILLIN WORKS FOR JAPS

Cousin Of Local Man, Sends Brief Message To Wife, Telling Of Safety

Capt. George J. McMillin, former governor of Guam, and a cousin of M. L. McMillin, of Neshannock avenue, in a message to his wife, who is residing in Long Beach, Calif., states that he is well and is "working" for the Japs.

He is in the Jap prison camp at Taiwan, one of the Formosa Islands.

Capt. McMillin, a native of Youngstown, O., graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1911, and had been governor of the island for two years before it was attacked and captured by the Japs in December, 1941, just after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

The message was the first received by his family since it was known he was a captive of the Japs.

New Strategy In Air Battles

Low Level Assault Power
Of U. S. Planes Gives Japs Big Surprise

MAKES BIG CHANGE IN BATTLE METHODS

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WITH ADVANCED AIR STRIK-ING FORCES IN NEW GUINEA, Aug. 30.—(Delayed)—For nearly an hour today as the hot north coast
New Guinea sun played a tattoo on our heads, Lieut. Gen. George C.
Kenney hammered home what he believes to be America's Pacific war-winning strategy: Low-level assault power.

His thesis is that medium bombardment units (Mitchells) fortified with powerful fire power are equivalent to or better than any offensive aerial weapon in the world today.

Best Examples
The best examples of his belief are more than 300 destroyed Japanese aircraft lying strewn over the Weewak airdrome.

His defense against critics' attacks on air power who base their objections on less fortunate results in the European and African theatres is that they simply did not obtain the same results. That such annihilating guns have been added to the versatile Mitchells is a fact only too well known to the Japs, even as it is equally clear to them that in strafing and bombardment, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's dreams of blazing a swift path to Tokyo finally are developing in all their devastating might.

Kenney gave a sharp indication that he anticipates the use of his attack air arm will preclude any future land campaigns such as Buna.

Kenney, who is the first to admit the value of other ideas, announced with a grin:

"The smartest thing I've ever done
in my life was to back up 'Pappy' Gunn (Lt. Col. Paul Gunn of Penna-cola, Pa.) when he demanded the changes now in use."

Said "Gunn" Be Done
There is a lunge in that story too.
Experts told both Kenney and Gunn that it couldn't be done, that it would "ruin the center of gravity."

"The heck with that center of gravity business—we've got plenty of that in our warehouses," Gunn replied impudently on behalf of himself and Kenney.

Results to date prove that the center of gravity theories should remain just where Gunn proposed they should remain. As a close observer of attack bombardment tactics in the Southwest Pacific theater I have listed what I believe to be decisive factors in their success.

The first and foremost is speed.
I cannot name exact figures as to the speed employed either against ground installations or shipping.
Suffice to say it is far beyond the Japs' wildest estimates of the maximum operational ability of medium aircraft.

Second, as Kenney asserted, is fire-power. Third is the extremely valuable element of surprise—the Japs usually are unable to distinguish between us and the tree-top before our brilliant orange tracer fire actually locates our position.

Fourth is the height of attack, which again violates every preconceived notion of medium bombardment capabilities and which leads—through bombs and machine-gun fire and the ear-splitting roar of our high-power engines—to inevitable chaos on the part of ground defense forces.

On those four fundamentals, then,
Kenney has predicted the whole pattern of his assault bombardment strategy—as strategy which is leading to revolutionary changes in the whole concept of modern warfare especially as applied to this jungle theatre.

GERMAN RESERVES SEEK DESPERATELY TO HALT RUSSIANS

viously announced that the Germans lost a total of 40,100 troops killed and captured, 632 tanks, 692 field guns and 212 planes in the Nazi debacle at Tannenberg. The defeat was the worst inflicted on the Nazis since the German Sixth Army was wiped out last winter at Stalingrad.

Finish "Mopping Up" Completion of the Tannenberg mopping up activity was accompanied by a new Soviet push southwest of Voroshilovgrad against Sta-lino, important Nazi-held industrial town. The Russians plunged through German defense lines at several points west of the Mius river, overrunning a whole network of secondary railroad lines and 30 populated places in advances ranging from three and one-half to six miles among them Krasny-Luch, Sh-terovka and Smezhnoe.

In the battle for Smolensk, the midnight communiqué said, more than 3,000 Germans were slain in exceptionally bitter fighting west and southwest of captured Yelnya 45 miles southeast of Smolensk.
Russian spearheads were reported far beyond Yelnya today.

Soviet capture of Dorogobuzh railroad town 25 miles north of Yelnya and 50 miles east-northeast of Smolensk, advanced the northern prong of a Soviet pincer closing in towards Smolensk.

Liberation of 60 communities south of Bryansk followed bitter battles against stubborn Nazi resistance.
The railroad town of Komarichi, 60 miles below Bryansk, was taken only after the Soviets broke through fiercely defended Nazi strong-points.

tion. The severe damage to the station, located on the Rome-Leghorn line, blocked the route serving the dock area.

Heavy Bombing
On Tuesday night British-flown
Boston bombers raked enemy army targets and bivouacs in the Reggio De Calabria area.

No Allied aircraft were lost in any of these operations.
The conquest of Sicily was completed a little over two weeks ago.
During that time, Allied bombers and fighters have subjected Italian railways and airfields to fully as heavy a battering as preceded the invasion of Sicily. It seems safe to say that the constantly increasing vigor of that assault is not without significant results.

Yesterday's communiqué revealed that two of Britain's biggest battleships, the 38-ton tonners Nelson and Rodney, had entered the battle for Italy. They crept to within ten miles of the enemy's formidable shore batteries by daylight through the southern end of the Messina Strait, and poured a devastating barrage of 16-inch shells into the coastal defenses of Reggio Di Calabria.

The British cruiser Orion and eight destroyers joined forces with the Nelson and Rodney, concentrating most of their fire on Axis batteries in the Cape Pellaro area.

The entry into the Italian campaign of these powerful naval forces at a time when Allied bombers were carrying out some of their most widespread attacks on the mainland was regarded in some quarters as presaging an imminent invasion.

PROBE WOMAN'S CLAIM IN WAC MURDER CASE

fellow Claypool bellboy, Alfred Bayne, Jr., according to the latter's testimony before the coroner. Bayne said he delivered "cokes" and ice to Corporal Ridings and saw her in company with a "black-haired woman in black" in her hotel room a short time before Wolfington visited the room.

Detectives studied a penciled note containing the names of "Bob" and "Maoma" as a possible clue to the woman's murder.

At the hearing before Municipal Judge John L. McNeill, Wolfington was described by Detective Sgt.
Fry Davis as a "first degree murder suspect." Wolfington's case was continued for a hearing to Friday afternoon. He did not furnish bond.

Note Found
The note, written with a blue pencil, was found on an Indianapolis street by Carl Overton, 18, and turned over to police. It said:
"Bob: Maoma Redding returning.
Will be at hotel at the 28th. Make an early visit. Don't worry."

There was no signature.
Police continued to question Wolfington who was believed to be the bellboy to visit Corp. Ridings' room the night of the murder.
He was removed from his cell to the lie detector laboratory, but police refused to say whether they had subjected him to a test.

Thus far, Wolfington has accounted for all but an hour and one half of the time he spent at the hotel on the night of the murder, police said. During that time, the bellboy said, he went out to get a sandwich and a glass of beer, but police said they wanted to check up further on his statement.

Cheerful war stories are poor politics. The more optimistic voters become, the madder they'll be in November next year.

POINT VALUES FOR SOME MEATS CUT

were cut one point, while fresh and cured bellies were also reduced two points.
Perhaps the most welcome OPA action was the one-point reductions in sirloin steaks and rib roasts as a result of a desire to "reflect a modest two per cent rise in beef supplies." The improvement in the beef situation was not sufficient to permit a general "across the board" reduction, OPA said.

Ten-inch rib steaks will cost only 10 points per pound in September;
seven-inch rib steaks, 11 points;
sirloins, 11 points; 10-inch rib roasts, nine points; and seven-inch rib roasts, 10 points.

Variety meats, including brains, hearts and tongues, also were reduced one to two points in value.
Pork liver was cut from four to three points. Veal sweetbreads were raised, however, from six to eight points a pound.
Butter purchases in producing areas have been so large at a 10-point value that shortages developed in other sections of the nation, officials explained.

ALLIED FIGHTERS SHOOT 36 PLANES DOWN IN BATTLE

during the furious sky battle over Bougainville as four-motored bombers, strongly escorted by fighter planes, heavily bombed the Kahili airborne runway. The communiqué did not disclose whether the Allied losses in the six-to-one victory included bombers or fighters or both.
Poor visibility prevented assessment of the damage wrought on the ground.

Elsewhere in the Solomons, unopposed heavy bombers blasted enemy installations at Rekata Bay off Santa Isabel island. Allied fighter planes destroyed two barges and a small coastal vessel off Vella Lavella island and light naval patrol craft sank a barge in Vella Gulf and damaged two others.

Heavy bombers on reconnaissance bombed the oil port of Poela on Ceram island, west of New Guinea, and long-range attack planes set a small cargo ship afire in the Arus, between New Guinea and Australia.

HUGE DAMAGE IN BERLIN RAID

attack on Berlin, was declared to have been completely knocked out by Tuesday night's raid. Direct hits were said to have been scored on a number of important chemical factories in the southeastern suburbs.

The Daily Express, quoting Stockholm dispatches, said that the population of the Nazi capital expected Tuesday night's raid because it was the fourth anniversary of the beginning of the war. Civilian defense authorities, these reports said, advised the people to take shelter after sunset.

There was a lull in the aerial warfare against the continent yesterday. The only activity reported was an attack by RAF Boston bombers escorted by Typhoon fighters, on the railroad marshalling yards at Rosendaal, Holland, in which one plane was lost.

The air ministry did not reveal the total weight of bombs dropped on Berlin Tuesday night, but it was believed that the tonnage equalled or exceeded that unloaded on the German capital in the last major assault on August 23.

World War a quarter century ago radio was just beginning to become known. There were numerous radio signal stations, etc., but no radio as generally known today.
In the first World War all amateur and home stations of every kind in use in the nation were silenced and dismantled.

Mrs. Charles Miller of 141 Garfield avenue reports that her night-blooming cereus came out last night.
A large number of friends were present to watch its nocturnal debut. "Cereus" by the way, is an old Latin word meaning "wax candle", which the bloom is thought to resemble.

From what Pa Newc hears, thousands of tomatoes are being canned daily in home canning programs at New Castle and Lawrence County residences. No tomatoes should be allowed to go to waste. All that are not currently needed for use should be canned.

including its fighter, dive-bombing and torpedo squadrons. The fact that the Japanese referred to wave after wave of planes indicated that more than one U. S. carrier participated in the attack. A force of two or more carriers would require a tremendously large number of escort vessels, including battleships, heavy cruisers and destroyers.
Marcus Island is only 880 miles west northwest of Wake island, which the Japs captured December 23, 1941, after a heroic 15-day defense by U. S. marines who asked only "send us more Japs".

REVOLT IN EUROPE

THERE has long been a belief that when enslaved Europe became convinced that Germany's defeat was foreshadowed by events the temporarily vanquished nations would begin to rise. This expectation is being fulfilled.

Europe's cauldron is beginning to seethe and the developments of 1918 that had their culmination in the Armistice of November 11 now, after four years of war, have their counterpart in Denmark and in the Balkans. The disintegration of Hitler's fortress has started.

The revolt in Denmark, although quickly suppressed by the Nazis, is as significant as any development of the war. Still possessing the power to maintain their dominance of the conquered nations, the Nazis may be expected to exercise their strength swiftly and mercilessly. With Europe in a state of unrest and waiting eagerly for the first sign of weakness in the overlord's control of a troubled continent, Hitler could not permit the initial revolt to make even the slightest progress.

The significance of the Danish uprising is not reduced by the circumstance of its failure. It is enough for the world, and for Europe in particular, to know that a small nation of indomitable people has had the courage to resist the oppression of its conquerors and to scuttle its fleet in a daring and an inspiring gesture of defiance.

The effect cannot be lost upon a world which awaits eagerly the hour when the enslaved shall rise. In his contemplative moments, assuming that the rush of events offers opportunity for contemplation, Hitler must find cause for deep anxiety in the analogy which he finds in the history of this last few months preceding November, 1918, and this summer of 1943.

HEAVY BOMBER LOSSES SERIOUS

Successful and damaging air raids inflicted on the Nazis at Regensburg and Schweinfurt, Germany, on August 17, cost us the high total of 59 Flying Fortresses. At Schweinfurt the Fortress squadrons lost more than in any other raid made by them in this war—36 were shot down. These and other serious losses can better be understood in the light of the fact that the bombers themselves and escorting fighters knocked down 307 enemy fighter planes.

The Nazis have been desperately seeking to find an answer to the deadly menace to their war industries and great cities presented by the American four-motored Fortresses and Liberators. From the size of their losses on August 17 they must have met the Fortress raiders with extremely heavy fighter concentrations.

It won't do to discount the Luftwaffe or Nazi aircraft construction. Probability of further heavy losses on our part must be faced. Likewise it must be met by speeding up production of the huge and powerful bombers that are spreading ruin in the Reich—Philadelphia Inquirer.

TEACHER SHORTAGE

An unprecedented teacher shortage exists in the country in the school year now beginning. Elementary and high schools, the National Education Association reports, have 75,000 fewer teachers signed up than customary at the beginning of a term. Balancing that, of course, is a "compensating" loss of pupils of working age, and for both losses the war, in one aspect or another, is responsible.

This cannot fail to mean, the country over, the closing of many school rooms and the consolidating of classes where possible. The true picture will not, of course, be available until after all the schools reopen and it is learned how many additional teachers and pupils have been drawn into war industry.

But war is war and nothing is going to arrest this movement. Pupils can quit school at a comparatively tender age, and for most of those who do it means the end of all formal training, perhaps before they have acquired a stimulus to go on acquiring knowledge and culture for themselves through their own efforts.

In all the reorganization this state of affairs entails, it must not be forgotten that extra strain will be put upon the teachers who stick to the system. Many of them may be compelled to work longer, or at least different, hours and cope with classes larger than those they are accustomed to teach. They face many adjustments, but will deserve the gratitude of the community if the difficult wartime problems are well worked out.

PINNERS STRATEGY

Preparations for stepping up the tempo of the war on Japan involve the shifting of considerable British naval strength out of the Mediterranean into the Indian ocean. Britain has been keeping a large fleet in the Mediterranean to convoy troops and supplies and as a safeguard against possible attack by Italy's idle fleet.

But the Italian fleet has never materialized. It is badly battered as the result of air raids and it is doubtful if it could make much of a showing as an effective force. If the remnants attempt to make a foray, they can be handled to a large extent by air power.

Indications are that a vast pincer operation is to be applied to Japan. Coming in from the west the British fleet, with accompanying air power and an army in Burma can make headway toward Singapore, which the British are eager to recapture at the earliest possible moment.

And from the southeast American-Australian, air, sea and land forces are already progressing in the general direction of the Philippines. The Philippines are General MacArthur's first great goal, and there can be no doubt that they will be recaptured sooner than most people anticipate.

When the British and Americans are back in Singapore and the Philippines, they will be in a position to pinch the Japs out of the East Indies. The Dutch look forward with eagerness to that consummation and Australians will breathe easier when the Jap has been forced away from their shores.

If the war on Japan progresses as outlined, the final fighting will likely take place in China, to the accompaniment of an archipelago-busting air attack on Japan.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACHING CHILD HONESTY

So many parents have written me about problems of deceit in their children that I have prepared a special bulletin on the subject. I hope it helps to make a lot of homes happier. It may be had by writing me in care of 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a three-cent stamp on a self-addressed envelope. I wish I had space to reproduce the entire bulletin here. But here are a few statements from it anyway.

After the child has done something which he has been told not to do his parents may ask him if he did it. Then if he says he did he may be punished. Since the punishment usually is remote from the alleged offense, it may not connect up in his mind with this offense at all but rather with his confession. With enough such experiences the child lies and escapes the punishment.

Building Honesty
We build for honesty and truthfulness in the child as we show regard for his rights and possessions, respect him as a person and provide a family atmosphere of love, understanding, sympathy, confidence and companionship. When his first post card arrives we should hand it to him unread, his first letter unopened. We will not read our son's or daughter's letters nor peek into a diary; neither will we go through the purse or pockets of the runaway or adolescent. We should try hard to keep our promises to the child of any age. In no way will we purposely deceive him.

We should not try to control the growing child's conduct while away from us by any detective scheme, "court trial" or punishment.

Parents should endeavor to be upright in all our dealings. We should try to shield the child against temptations beyond his ability to withstand.

Stealing and Lying

Suppose your child steals or lies. Punishment will not be the cure, since it would only tend to make him more deceptive. Neither should we employ tugging at his heart-strings or the other usual emotional appeals. The surest cure is more intelligent understanding of the child and love for him that is genuine.

Many a child who has been pilfering and lying, followed by the usual emotional oratory, feels himself in disgrace in the family, even among the relatives and neighbors. Until he can acquire a feeling that he is a respectable and worthy member of his family, how can he improve? If his parents are to build good qualities of character in him, they must treat the past as a closed book, once a misdeed has been dealt with.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. When I request my 21-year-old boy to do something he shouts, "No." How should I punish him for this?

A. Don't punish him for what you request him to do. Let him choose; otherwise it is not a request at all, but a command. Except for routine matters better not command a child so young to do something for you. But for the few things he must never do command just once and spank him immediately if he does not stop. Make painful only the few things he must never do, pleasant the many things you want him to do.

Q. Should parents have anything to say to the school about the cost related to commencement, yearbooks and the like?

A. They certainly should and I hope they speak up concertedly early in the school year.

The present state of things is

THE UNWASHED

Is there anything to that old story that boys hate to take baths?

A lot of boys enjoy taking shower baths, especially in hot weather. The legend probably started at least a century ago in the North. If you had to go out in the cold to the woodshed and bring in armfuls of wood to make a hot fire, and heat water on the stove, and pour it into a tub, and undress in a room at zero on Saturday night, you might not like to bathe every week.

PARENTAL GUIDANCE FOR 18-YEAR-OLD GIRL

"One month ago, I finished my business course and now at 18 I have my first offer of a promising job—50 miles away from home. Mother and Father are perfectly willing to let me go but they insist on accompanying me on my first trip to get me settled in a good home. This embarrasses me tremendously as I have a friend at whose house I will live and feel that I am old enough to go alone. What do you say?"
Judy.

Answer: Your mother and father are perfectly correct in insisting upon getting you settled in a decent home and seeing that you will be well-protected and taken care of. You should be thankful that they are sufficiently broad-minded to let you live so far away from home. Few parents would!

Not only do I think a girl of eighteen is too young to start out alone on such a journey, but I would discourage her leaving home at all, unless her parents know definitely that she will be looked after physically and morally by a good and reliable older woman. This is what your parents are preparing to do. And as far as prospective friends are concerned, they will respect you all the more when they learn that you have this security.

Question: Kindly give the correct usage of Jr. and Sr. when the latter has died leaving a widow. I am especially referring to a Jr. who is to be married and whose widowed mother is still living.—R. W. R.

Answer: Upon the death of senior, "Jr." is dropped from his son's name, so in your case it will not be necessary to continue to use this designation. When her son marries, however, his mother may refer to herself as Mrs. John Smith, Sr. to avoid confusion with her daughter-in-law bearing the same name.

Question: What initials should be marked on a piece of silver to be given to a bride.—H. H.

Answer: The bride's.

"An archaeologist, teacher," replied Willie.

"Very good," smiled the teacher. "Now Johnnie, can you tell me what they call a person who looks for birds?"

"An ornithologist," said Johnnie. "Very good," approved the teacher. "Now I'm going to ask little Izzy who they call a person who looks for bugs."

"A chambermaid, teacher," shouted Izzy.

"Oh, I'm not offended," he replied; "I'm going for more flowers."

Most Stories Cooperating With OPA Ceilings
Wave Of Labor Trouble Is Anticipated Soon Showdown In Labor Situation Is Looked For

By HELEN ESSARY

(Editorial Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Look for a drive to police OPA ceiling prices of consumer durable goods, consumer services such as shoe repairing and laundrying, restaurants, perhaps fuel. It will be conducted by "housewife patrols."

One of the least publicized but most successful undertakings of the OPA was its creation of price panels last fall. Since they were set up, the panels have made phenomenal progress in enforcing the community-wide dollars-and-cents price ceilings established on dry groceries in more than 150 cities throughout the nation.

Three members of each of the country's 6,500 rationing boards constitute a "price panel." These members in turn recruit price panel assistants, volunteers whose jobs it is to check on observance of price ceilings. More than 45,000 stores were contacted in the Boston, Atlanta, New York, Chicago and Cleveland areas.

Results obtained are little short of amazing, OPA claims. In the Atlanta area, which includes the southeastern portion of the United States from 90 to 94 per cent of the retail food stores are complying with the ceilings. In Washington, where violations once were openly flaunted, nearly 90 per cent of the 1,800 groceries now are observing the ceilings.

Clubwomen, housewives, professional and small business men who serve as panel assistants are giving full credit for the success. Most price violations found are settled peacefully at conferences with ration boards. Few cases reach the stage where enforcement actions are filed in the courts.

In Detroit, during one two-week period, 246 complaints were investigated and only two had to be given to enforcement agents.

Mrs. Anne P. Flory, who bosses the show from Washington, is enthusiastic.

"We operate on the premise that the store keepers are essentially honest and want to comply," she says. "If we didn't we couldn't run this program."

Competent labor observers in Washington are predicting that a wave of labor trouble—strikes—will break out in September, early October at the latest. Some spots are the munitions, aircraft, automobile and coal industries. Even administration circles in the capital admit that there is a lot of unrest among workers, due to wage freezing and rising prices.

Head-line maker John L. Lewis may hit the front pages again. His United Mine Workers union now has its plea for wage raises before the War Relocation Authority. A decision is expected soon. If the wage demands are turned down, miners may walk out without awaiting any strike call from Lewis.

Another problem: Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes is returning government-operated mines to their owners.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE BOMBING OF ROME

The Army high command is to be congratulated on the intelligence with which the bombing of Rome was handled from a public relations standpoint.

Because of the location of the Vatican and several major religious shrines beloved of all Christians, Roman Catholic or not, it was particularly undesirable that Axis should not be permitted to spread any lies that these had been injured, either intentionally or by carelessness.

So in addition to planning the raid with the utmost care that explosives should not be dropped near sacred institutions, the Army made skillful use of all propaganda possibilities.

President Roosevelt and Premier Churchill assured Pope Pius that the Vatican would be safeguarded in any attacks on Italy. Then leaflets were dropped on Rome, informing the Italian people of the same thing.

Split second action was arranged to have the first flash on the bombing come from our side. Before Axis propaganda could catch its breath, we had told the story to the world.

The first bomb hurtled out of a Fortress at 11:13 on a Monday morning, Rome time, which was 5:13 in the morning by Washington time. So fast did the arrangements work out that fourteen minutes later, at 5:27 o'clock, a flash had gone over press association wires, from the nation's capital.

"The War Department announces the bombing of Rome."

In that brief interval the first bombers had sent word to Algiers, had been relayed to the Pentagon Building in Washington, passed through controls, given to newsmen, transmitted by them to their offices, "punched" out on the news printer and carried to principal distribution centers throughout the nation.

Meanwhile in the second flights, forty minutes behind the first, seven American and British correspondents were looking down on Rome, witnessing with their own eyes the actual damage done by earlier explosives and watching bombs drop from accompanying planes.

It was impossible for the Vatican, St. Peter's, Santa Maria, St. Paul's Basilica, or any other religious institution to be suffered without some of the correspondents noticing that damage.

Under such circumstances Axis fabrications have been stymied. Those who planned the coverage did a bangup good job.

The Soldier Vote

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2

SO FAR as the record is concerned, every politician in both parties is in favor of the soldiers and sailors in our armed forces, both at home and abroad, voting in the Presidential election which looms ahead. Actually, those who have thought about the matter seriously are rather appalled at the difficulties in the way and the questions which will have to be settled.

SOUND FINANCING OF WAR IS UP TO AMERICAN PEOPLE

Borrowing From Banks Must Be Lessened, Says Expert At Mercer Meeting

"Canada and England today are borrowing two-thirds of the money needed to carry on the war from non-bank sources. The United States is borrowing only one-third." Keynote of the Third War Loan drive which begins Sept. 9, this significant fact was stressed by Alfred H. Williams, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, at a meeting of War Finance Committee chairmen, bankers and other principal solicitors from Lawrence, Mercer and Venango counties at the Mercer county court house on Tuesday.

Banks will not be permitted to buy bonds during the Third War Loan in order to increase the non-bank sources.

It is not a question merely of financing the war, Mr. Williams stated, but of financing it soundly. Inflation can be prevented only if money for the war is lent by the American people directly. Americans realize that if they allow inflation to set in by not buying their share of war bonds now, it is they themselves who will suffer later, as well as our fighting men who may suffer now if equipment and supplies are not sent to them, for lack of sound financing.

Seventy billions must be borrowed for the war this year. The more of that amount that comes directly from our pockets, not from banks, the better are our chances of avoiding inflation and achieving a stable post-war period.

Speaking also regarding the coming drive was George H. Pabst, vice president in charge of finance of the Pennsylvania Railroad and investment division, Pennsylvania War Finance committee. Mr. McGlinchey, chairman of the Fort Pitt area, which includes most of Western Pennsylvania, was also present.

Attending the meeting from New Castle were: The Honorable W. Walter Braham, Joel McKee, Roger Jewett, Charles Johnson, A. W. Tindal, George Carpenter, John Maher, W. M. Roberts and Paul Dingledy. T. L. Ashcom was present from New Wilmington.

LITTLE INCREASE IN AUTOMOBILE TRAFFIC

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—Authorities reported today that the lifting of the ban on non-essential driving has caused only a moderate increase in traffic in the Pittsburgh area.

Although filling station operators also reported only a slight increase in business, they predicted a sharp rise over the Labor Day week-end, pointing out that many motorists had saved their "A" coupons for that specific occasion.

WILMINGTON REQUEST

MERCER, Sept. 2.—The Neshaunock Presbyterian church near New Wilmington has been enriched by $2,000, and that of the Fair Oaks Cemetery association by $1,000 through bequests of the late Henry Nelson, Wilmington township, whose will was filed for probate yesterday.

The will provides for the residue of the Nelson estate to go to the two organizations with a few personal bequests, upon the death of his widow.

Bond Purchasers Entitled To See Movie Stars Free

Tickets To Pittsburgh's 'Hollywood Cavalcade' Given Here With Bonds

Every time you buy a war bond between now and September 12 you can get two tickets to "Hollywood Cavalcade," which is a large and go-to show to be given at Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, Sunday, September 12, at 8 p. m.

In other words, every time you buy a bond you have a chance to see, for free, a constellation of entertainment stars like the following tentative cast of the show: Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, Greer Garson, Hedy Lamarr, Joan Crawford, Bette Davis, Bob Hope, Red Skelton, Kay Kyser and his band, and many others.

All you have to do is ask whoever is selling you the bond for an "official ticket order." This order is then exchanged for actual seats at Forbes Field by mailing or taking same to the War Finance Committee, in the Oliver building, Pittsburgh. If it is mailed, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Help your Uncle Sam to win the war and help yourself to an unforgettable evening of seeing your favorite movie stars in person. And the bigger the bond, the closer you will get to them, for the higher the denomination of the bond purchased, the better the location of the seats.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

that a Presidential candidate who received a minority of all the votes cast received a majority of the electoral votes and thus became President. Woodrow Wilson was one. Obviously, if some 6,000,000 soldiers at home and abroad and some two or three million sailors on land and on sea all are to vote on a certain day for President, some sort of registration has to be held. Every man in the services who wants to vote has got some way to certify that he is entitled to vote under the laws of the State of which he was a resident.

THIS IS essential, first to comply with the State laws which apply to all voters, and second to insure his vote being properly counted in his home precinct. Otherwise our whole electoral system would be thrown out of joint and the election reduced to chaos. These difficulties can be overcome but not in any such silly way as Senator Lucas proposes. Qualified voters of New York in the armed forces, for example, can vote on November 2 by making application to the State War Ballot Commission, but the application must be made by September 20. Other States have other rules. Some have none. To effectively enfranchise all soldiers and sailors it will be necessary first to secure co-operation of all the States; second, to conform to the various State laws; third, to set up adequate registration and election machinery. Perhaps some thought has been given to the details by the gentlemen who are so vocal in urging that every man in uniform shall vote, but there is slight evidence of that kind of thought.

ALSO THE pertinent point is made as to whether the soldiers and sailors are to vote only for the Presidential candidate of their choice, or for the Senatorial candidate in their respective States, the House candidates in their Congressional districts and the local offices in the city or county from which they hail. Other questions suggest themselves, but enough has been said to show that this business of registering, casting and counting millions of absentee soldier-sailor votes according to State laws and distributing them so as to conform to our electoral system is a complicated matter and that those who lightly talk about lining the boys up on election day and handing them a ballot are absurd.

NEITHER THE Federal law enacted in 1942 to facilitate voting among the armed forces nor the amendments to that bill which Senator Lucas and Senator Green of Rhode Island (another rabid New Dealer) have offered, are adequate. If the armed forces are to vote, it is essential that the registration and the voting be supervised and controlled by bipartisan boards. If the election abroad, in the camps and on the ships is not conducted on a bipartisan basis it would be better not to have it at all. And on this subject there is the question of supplying campaign information to the armed forces. The only agency by which information can now be transmitted is the OWI and the idea that the OWI, the head of whose foreign division is Mr. Roosevelt's chief speech writer and the force of which is composed almost entirely of ardent fourth-termers, supplying this information in a completely non-partisan manner is just not to be taken seriously. To believe that Mr. Sherwood, the speech writer, and Mr. Elmer Davis, member of the radical American Labor Party, already committed to the fourth term, could be absolutely fair in their presentation of the campaign arguments and criticism is quite a strain. They might want to be and try to be, but committed as they are, it just can't be done. Certainly the Republicans would be completely boobies to agree to any such unrestricted arrangement.

private owners. The government seized them after a first coal strike in May. Lewis has been insistent that the government operate them, said that his miners would work for Uncle Sam but not private operators unless wage demands are met.

A showdown may come when congress returns September 14. At its last session, congress enacted the Smith-Connally Anti-Strike bill, which, among other things, carries provisions that could put a strike leader in jail. But how effective the measure is going to be still awaits a major test.

In this connection, look for more frequent use of the word "sanctions" in labor dispute cases. President Roosevelt, in signing the executive order promising the WLB full support of the government in enforcing its decisions, told how "sanctions" it was his word—could be applied.

Reluctant workers could be drafted; they could be jailed if they picketed or encouraged a strike; and they could be "black listed" from all jobs for the duration of the war in extreme cases if necessary with their social security benefits also temporarily cut off. Industries producing only civilian goods could be driven out of business by withholding of materials if they refused to comply with WPB orders. War industries would be taken over by the government. Those are the sanctions which could be clamped down. Big question is how tough and how far the government wishes to go.

The Story Of Famous Diamonds

... diamonds that have shared in the course of world events.

THE SANCY

The smallest, yet one of the most interesting of the famous Oriental diamonds, is the Sancy. When Henry IV ascended the throne he accepted this diamond as security for a loan. The messenger never arrived with it, however, for he was killed by robbers. Thinking could have taken to guard the stone, his body was dug up and the stomach opened. The famous Sancy had been swallowed by the faithful messenger. Today, some say that this diamond is the property of the Maharajah of Patiala; others, that it belongs to Lady Astor.

Insect Repellent Attracts Native Women In Pacific

'Precious Perfume' Is Another Wonder Brought By White Man

By ART COHN

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH-WEST PACIFIC, Sept. 2.—Item 1 is a true story from Kiriwina Island, one of the Trobriands. General MacArthur's forces occupied June 30.

The natives were intrigued by the military invasion each day bringing them new and wonderful sights surpassing their fondest dreams.

One day, at an outpost, a native girl was attracted by the odor of a lotion a young private was rubbing on himself. To her nostrils it was more fragrant than the frangipani. She edged over shyly and made a sign with her hands that she would like some.

The private was reluctant because the men had been warned against becoming involved with the natives, but then he was assaulted by her wishes she might become angry and the ill-feeling would defeat the purpose of the warning.

Private Is Besieged

So he rubbed some of the liquid on her neck and she smiled gratefully and ran away. A little while later an army of Amazons had literally beaten a path to the private's door.

It seems the entire female population of the native village had heard—and smelled—of the white man's precious perfume.

And, for this country, the soldier squirted and rubbed the lotion over the native women until finally the last drop of the last bottle in his tent was gone and he was exhausted, then the girls went back to their homes singing and dancing and smelling.

He doesn't know how the men of the village liked their sweet-scented women but he is confident they were not bothered by mosquitoes that night, considering their "perfume" was G. I. insect repellent.

Aussie Girls Warned
Item 2 is a warning to Australian girls marrying American service men, as many are.

"The girls' ideas have been colored by what they see in the movies," Peter G. Croes, U. S. army field director, admonished the Sydney belles the other day, "but they'll find out not every working family's home in America has beautiful enamel sinks and plenty of electric labor-saving devices."

Music And Morale

Item 3, Music—Possibly the most intelligent show yet sent to this area is the team of Edwin McArthur, conductor, and Lansing Hatfield, baritone, both of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Their informal community singing festival probably have done more lasting good than any other act.

McArthur and Hatfield have accomplished miracles in reawakening an appreciation of better music, not necessarily classical, but the works of Gershwin, Kern, Debussy and Hammerstein.

And they have learned much of soldiers' musical tastes out here. With the exception of Irving Berlin's "White Christmas," the men do not seem to want to hear any song written in this war. They prefer sweet, sentimental songs, preferably of World War 1 vintage.

WOMAN IS INJURED

Linnea Turner, of 520 East Leasure avenue, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, for lacerations of the second finger of the left hand, received when she had her hand caught in the blades of an electric mixer.

"THANK GOODNESS!"

Here's one thing that hasn't gone up!

NO NEED to look so surprised, Lady!

Far from going up, electric prices have been coming down—steadily! Within the past three years, while the cost of living has climbed about 22%, the average price of household electricity has dropped about 7%!

And this downward trend in the price of electricity has been going on for years. For example, if yours is an average family, you're getting just about twice as much electricity for your money today as you did 15 years ago.

That's good news to your budget, isn't it? And meanwhile, you're enjoying the use of lots more electric appliances.

DON'T WASTE ELECTRICITY JUST BECAUSE IT ISN'T RATIONED!

Why is electricity so cheap? Because experienced business management has made it so. Your electric company has been on this job for years—and those years of experience count! They all add up to friendly, dependable service—at low cost!

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—A soldier stationed at Camp Shenango was hunted by police in eight states today after issuance of a warrant charging him with theft of more than $3,000 worth of jewelry and a small amount of cash from a Mt. Lebanon man.

Information was filed against Marion N. Horton, 28, by John P. Cronin, president of a house-insulating company, who said he had known the soldier previously and had met him again Tuesday night. They went to Cronin's home early yesterday and sat in a room where the jewelry lay on a dresser. Cronin awakened in the afternoon, and found that Horton, the jewelry and $10 in cash were gone.

Pfc. James Anderson Awarded Silver Star

WITH FIFTH AMERICAN ARMY
North Africa, Sept. 2.—Pfc. James Anderson, serving in a medical unit of the Fifth American Army, has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action during the Tunisian campaign.

often drove his vehicle through enemy shelling in order to get wounded soldiers from the battlefield to a medical station. On one occasion he drove his ambulance over a dangerous hillside trail which was under artillery and mortar fire.
With enemy shells landing near his vehicle during this trip he removed several wounded men and returned them to a place of safety, thereby saving their lives.

Pfc. Anderson's home is at 17

Says Older Single Men Should Be Taken In Draft

Congressman Asserts Many Others In Metropolitan Areas Should Be Rounded Up

By ERWIN D. SIAS

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Rep. J.
Buell Snyder (D) Pa., today urged the army and navy to begin induction of single men between the ages of 38 and 45 to delay the drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers on Oct. 1.

Snyder, chairman of the house appropriations sub-committee on military spending, recommended that men in that age group be reconditioned in "training camps" and then used only in non-combatant duty.

Meanwhile, the War Manpower Commission disclosed that there are about 7,000,000 "over-age" men between 38 and 45. A spokesman for WMC added, however, that the army and navy "just don't want men over 38 years of age."

WMC also explained that the percentage of men 38 years old and over who are physically qualified for military service is negligible.
While the percentage of those who are fathers, or who would be deferred in vital war employment, is high.

"We still have—mostly in the metropolitan areas—bums, wifebeaters, drunks, gambling joint patrons and dissipaters of all kinds who should be rounded up and put into uniform at once," Snyder asserted.

"Such men should be rounded up and put in training camps," Snyder continued. "With proper diet and correct care, 75 per cent of them within three months would be fit to do war work."

Super Fortresses Will Bomb Europe From U. S. Bases

New 'Flying Battleships' To Dwarf Current Types Of Bomber

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Super Flying Fortresses capable of bombing European objectives and returning to the United States under escort of new type fighter planes were predicted Wednesday for the near future by Gen. Henry H. Arnold.

Writing in "Army Ordnance," organ of the Army Ordnance association, the commanding general of the Army Air forces described "the awesome new flying battleships as large as the B-17's, virtually impenetrable from attack, and able to bomb and machine gun everything in their path."

"The bombers will dwarf our present Flying Fortresses," he said.
"They will carry half a carload of bombs across the Atlantic and fly home without stop."

"The bomber's skin will have numerous 'blisters' which in reality will be multiple-gun power turrets controllable from sighting stations.
Sights that compensate for almost every possible error encountered in firing on a fast-moving aerial target will control the guns—a sight as revolutionary as our present bombsight."

"The plane will have 'eyes' that help guide it to its target, or warn and plot the course of interceptor aircraft. It will carry bombs of entirely different design. It may mount heavy-caliber cannon of an entirely new principle of operation."

Arnold also revealed that incendiary bullets and fragmentation anti-personnel bombs equipped with parachutes are now being used by Allied airmen.

UMW Continues Organizing U. S. Dairy Farmers

Union Spokesman Asserts 100,000 New Members, More "Signing Every Day"

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—A spokesman for John L. Lewis' United Dairy Farmers Union (UMW) asserted Wednesday that 100,000 of the nation's dairymen have been organized—despite reports that Lewis had dropped the scheme as "unprofitable."

Organization work is underway in 15 states, according to Edward Kennedy, director of research for the dairy union and already collective bargaining agreements have been negotiated with milk dealers in Wisconsin, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

Lewis' latest bid for power in organizing American workers began in January, 1942, when a group of Michigan farmers, applying for membership with UMW, persuaded Lewis to charter the United Dairy Farmers union as a branch of the miners organization.

"Since that time there has been no abatement of our activities," Kennedy declared. "There has been no change in our attitude or any interruption of our organization program."

Asserting that "farmers are signing up every day," Kennedy stated that the United Dairy Farmers union is "experiencing no difficulties with dealers—large or small—in regard to our check-off system of payment of dues or working out of contracts."

Lewis himself was said to have no intention of abandoning the dairy farmers project and it was pointed out that he made this fact clear when applying for affiliation of the UMW with the American Federation of Labor.

Former McKeesport Soldier, Claiming War Exploits And Medals, Held On Bail

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—A former McKeesport soldier who returned home as a veritable "conquering hero" with stories of having been decorated by King George and Winston Churchill for bravery in North Africa and Dieppe was branded by the FBI Wednesday as a fraud who purchased his medals and never saw any action at all.

Sidney Homer Loveall, 23, who arrived in McKeesport several months ago, his chest covered with three medals and two ribbons, to regale war bond rallies with tales of personal heroism under fire, was officially charged with "unlawfully wearing citations and medals."

United States Commissioner Roger Knox ordered Loveall held in $3,000 bail for court action. According to an FBI spokesman in the Pittsburgh office, Loveall, who entered the army February 3, 1942, was honorably discharged February 27, 1943, without engaging in action or winning any medals.

Loveall is remembered by Pittsburgh newspapers as the handsome soldier who told feature writers that he was personally given the Order of King George IV by the British monarch, and was later awarded a medal by Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

He told listeners at war bond rallies he participated in the bloody commando raid at Dieppe a year ago this summer and was wounded fighting in North Africa.

In all, Loveall sported the Order of King George IV, the Order of the Purple Heart, the Dieppe award, a ribbon purporting to show action in North Africa and a ribbon indicating pre-Pearl Harbor service in the army.

According to the FBI, the ex-soldier now admits he purchased one medal in New York City, a second in Pittsburgh and was given the King George medal by a wounded British Tommy convalescing in an English hospital.

Commission Rules Garden State Season Must Close Sept. 11

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 2.—Garden State Park near Camden, must close its racing season September 11, the New Jersey Racing Commission ruled today.

A petition of 125 horse owners and trainers had asked the commission for a 10-day extension of the racing season, pleading that Pimlico in Baltimore would not open for 30 days and they would have no place to race in the interim. The racing commission held that the law regulating horse racing in New Jersey allowed only a 50-day racing meet in Jersey and that would expire at Garden State on September 11.

MORE MEAT FOR CIVILIANS SOON

Suspension Of Quota Limitations On Livestock Slaughter Is Directed

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. Increased quantities of meat were made available for civilian consumption today following the suspension of quota limitations on the slaughter of livestock.

The suspension order, effective until October 31, is designed to facilitate full production schedules to meet the increased seasonal flow of cattle to markets.

War food administration officials said that civilians will receive increased quantities of beef, pork, lamb and mutton for the present. Future allocations, it was said, will depend upon lend-lease and military requirements.

With meat production scheduled to hit a seasonal peak until January, officials said that quota restrictions may remain suspended if federally-licensed packers can obtain sufficient livestock to meet government needs. Under the order, these packers are still required to set aside 45 per cent of certain grades of beef for the army.

Officials estimated that approximately 16 billion pounds of meat will be available for civilian consumption for the remainder of the year as compared with 17 and one-half billion pounds last year.

SUES OVER ACCIDENT

Damages in the total sum of $6,175.50 have been asked by Elsie J. Stanley and Frank M. Stanley, Frank M. Stanley for himself and Arthur L. Stanley from Forrest Henry.

It is contended that Mrs. Elsie J. Stanley was seated in the car owned by her son, Arthur L. Stanley, now in the armed forces, when Henry, driving south on Cunningham avenue, entered the intersection of Cunningham and Lutton street, without observing the stop sign, and ran into an auto driven by Howard

L. Owens, which was knocked against the Stanley car, parked on Cunningham avenue, in which Mrs. Stanley was seated. The car was damaged to the extent of $170.50. Mrs. Stanley sustained a broken right ankle and other injuries, for which the sum of $5,000 is asked, while Mr. Stanley asks for $1,000 for the loss of his wife's services about the house and her companionship.

MARRIAGE LICENSE APPLICATIONS
Samuel Deep, 705 Arlington avenue; Margaret Fazio, 705 Arlington avenue.

ELECTION APPOINTMENT
Appointment of Jennie Gormley as judge of elections in Hickory township, second district, was made by President Judge W. Walter Braham, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mable Gormley.

SEEK TO CLOSE CLUB

Quo Warranto proceedings to void the charter of the Societa Principe Di Montalvano, at 1213 South Mill street, which was raided by State police and County Detective Charles D. Ross recently, when Michael Cassacchia was arrested on the charge of establishing a gambling house, and after pleading nolo contendere, was fined $200 and costs for establishing a gambling house. District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson, in bringing the proceedings called the attention of the court to the raid made on August 20, and to a similar raid made on May 21, 1943, when Dante DeFalco, alleged president of the club was arrested and sentenced to pay $100 and costs and in default thereof to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 30 days.

It is contended that the corporation or club is merely a "front" for a gambling resort, operated for individual profit. Judge Braham granted the Quo Warranto petition and made a return date of the first Monday in October to show cause why the charter of the society should not be revoked.

More About Taxes

The court of public opinion is always open to citizens who have grievances against public officials and the election booth is the proper place to take such grievances.

My opponent, Mr. McKibben, in a paid advertisement, claims he is efficient and trustworthy. As City Treasurer he is official tax collector. In measuring his efficiency we take in consideration the amount of taxes collected during incumbency.

During 1936 he failed to collect $14,873.06 in personal taxes, and asked Council for exoneration. During 1937 he failed to collect $11,966.72, and asked for exoneration.

During 1938 he failed to collect $10,841.43, and asked for exoneration. During 1939 he failed to collect $10,065.25, and asked for exoneration.

Had he collected less than two-thirds of the above, property taxes would not have had to be raised this year.

If elected I will at least spend my money with home merchants that help pay my salary.

Kiwanians Hear About Battle From Helena Survivors

Pete Lisko, P. ul Chambers And Clyde Rainey Tell Kiwanians Of Experiences

Kiwanis Club members were addressed by Fire Controlman Paul Chambers, Petty Officer First Class Pete Lisko, and Corp. Clyde Rainey, of the U. S. Marines, at their meeting Wednesday, and were thrilled by the experiences these heroes went through fighting for Uncle Sam aboard the U. S. Helena.

Their story has previously been published, but they related some new angles about their fighting experiences. Their ship was in the battle for 14 minutes before she was sunk, and they laid out in the water aboard a raft and saw the rest of the battle in which the Japs were cleaned up before they were rescued.

Corp. Rainey, of the Marines, related some interesting experiences he had while ashore in Australia, and stated that they were graciously entertained by the Australians. At first the Aussie soldiers did not take too well to the Yanks, particularly the men who had come back from the fighting in the middle east, they were soon on good terms.

The men told of the sinking of the Juneau, which had been crippled in battle by the Japs, and which was hit by a Jap torpedo. The Helena was acting as an escort vessel, on the way back to "the barn" as the sailors referred to their base port, when the Juneau was struck. One instant there was a huge red ball of fire, and a moment later, there was nothing in sight, not even a bit of drifting debris. The ship simply blew up and disappeared, with everyone aboard.

They also knew about the sinking of the Gwynn, on which ship Seaman First Class Earl L. Covert, of this city was serving. It was sunk, they stated, in the November 13 battle in the Solomons area, which was a terrific battle.

There is no question about the superiority of the Yanks over the Japs, all three men agreed, and state that it is only a matter of time until the Japs are liquidated.

Israel Called to Be a Holy People

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Moses and the law.

"Ye shall be holy; for I am holy."—1 Peter 1:16.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Sept. 5 is the Book of Leviticus, the Golden Text being 1 Peter 1:16. "Ye shall be holy; for I am holy.")

The Book of Leviticus, which is our lesson for today, follows the book of Exodus, in which is told the story of the escape of the Children of Israel from slavery in Egypt. Leviticus deals with the laws laid down by the Lord to Moses for the conduct of the children of Israel in the land of promise.

The people were told to make themselves holy by their daily living and right attitudes toward God and their neighbors. Many of these laws were concerned only with the Jewish people of that day, and have no bearing on our conduct. Many more, however, are just as important for us today as they were then for the Israelites.

One of the laws that does not apply to us is that which has made the Jewish people a unique nation, separate from all others down the ages. It was necessary in those days that they should be kept separate from the heathen nations. If Israel was to teach the nations the way of holiness, it must be taught holiness by the Lord.

It is interesting to note that the events recorded in Genesis cover 370 years; those in Exodus, 140 years; but the events occurring in Leviticus can be included in one month of time.

Right Relations With God
Much of the book is concerned with the sins of man, even of the priests, and the laws which would lead him back into right relations with God. Disobedience often resulted in death, as in the case of two of Aaron's sons. When the necessary sacrifice had been made in the tabernacle, "the glory of the Lord appeared unto all the people, and a fire came out from before the Lord." These men took their censers and put fire therein and incense thereon, and "offered strange fire before the Lord, which He commanded them not. And there went out fire from the Lord, and devoured them and they died."

Honoring parents is one of the first commandments of the law. Children get their first experience of the love and goodness of God through their parents. They should be treated with love and honor all their days.

They were warned not to worship idols and to keep the Sabbath. During the Sabbath when no work that was not absolutely necessary should be done, the children could be instructed in the symbols, rites and ceremonies which formed part of the service of the Sabbath.

Ye shall not steal nor lie to one another, nor deal false with one another. Stealing and lying go hand in hand. A person who will steal will usually lie. Dealing falsely with a neighbor means cheating him, robbing him of his just dues, or not paying him what he earns by his labor.

Neither Flatter Nor Bully
"Thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honor the person of the mighty; but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbor." Respect the person, whether he be rich or poor, not letting his riches or poverty influence you. Deal justly with all, neither fawning on and flattering one or bullying the other. Treat both as you would yourself be treated.

One commandment that is especially pertinent in all times and places is the rule about tale-bearing—gossiping. How many, even very good people, indulge in this, and how many innocent ones suffer from it?

Respect the aged. "Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honor the face of the old man, and thou shalt fear thy God." How many people today disregard this commandment, and how much it needs to be brought to their attention.

The most touching of the laws of relations with others is the one of love for the stranger. "And if a stranger sojourn with thee in your land, ye shall do him no wrong. The stranger that sojourneth with you shall be unto you as the home-born among you, and thou shalt love him as thyself; for ye were sojourners in the land of Egypt."

The sojourner or stranger had adopted the customs of the Jews, become one of them, and as they remembered their loneliness and the slurs cast at them when they were strangers in a strange land, so should they make the stranger feel at home and "love him" as themselves.

GRANTED $75,000 TO DISCOVER SYNTHETIC FORM OF PENICILLIN
(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Scientists at the University of Illinois had a grant of $75,000 today to finance an experiment by which they hope to take penicillin apart chemically and then reproduce it synthetically. If they succeed, it would remove a bottleneck in the production of the antibacterial drug which is difficult to manufacture and all of which is needed for the treatment of wounded men in the armed forces.

Nevada Paper Assails Practice Of Much Married And Divorced Man

(International News Service)

RENO, Nev., Sept. 2.—Tommy Manville, whose seventh wife, "Sunny" Ainsworth Manville, arrived in Reno this week to establish residence for a divorce, today was accused in an editorial in the Nevada State Journal of making a mockery of Nevada's courts.

The Journal, published in Reno, said: "Far be it from us to criticize the matrimonial ventures of Manville.

It is his money that he contributes to the general welfare of the blondes and brunettes in alimony and settlements.

"But we are interested in the mockery that this much-married individual is making of Nevada's courts, using them as a tool in his high-priced sport.

League Leaders Rally; Nab
Nightcap; Cavaretta's
Homer Tops Reds 9-9

By JOHN CASHMAN

(International News Service Special Writer)
NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—One of the greatest things about the national pastime lies in the fact that even those baseball contests that mean little as far as final standings are concerned can still be thrilling struggles. Such a game was the Chicago Cubs-Cincinnati Reds 10-inning fray yesterday, in which the Cubs emerged the victors, 12 to 9.

The Cubs pounded four Reds hurlers for 22 hits, and were paced by Phil Cavaretta's home run with two on in the tenth frame. In retaliation, the Redlegs valiantly fared for 14 safeties, including home runs by Bert Haas and Estel Crabtree. Both swatted their circuit clouts with one aboard.

Reds Tie Score
The Reds marched into the ninth frame with a three-run deficit, the Cubs holding down the heavy end of a 9 to 6 score. They pushed across one run, and Crabtree's homer evened up the count.

Cavaretta broke up the game in the tenth with his home run and the Reds failed to do any scoring in their half of the tenth off Lon Warneke, who was credited with the victory. Clyde Shoun, who went to the mound for Cincinnati in the tenth, was charged with the loss.

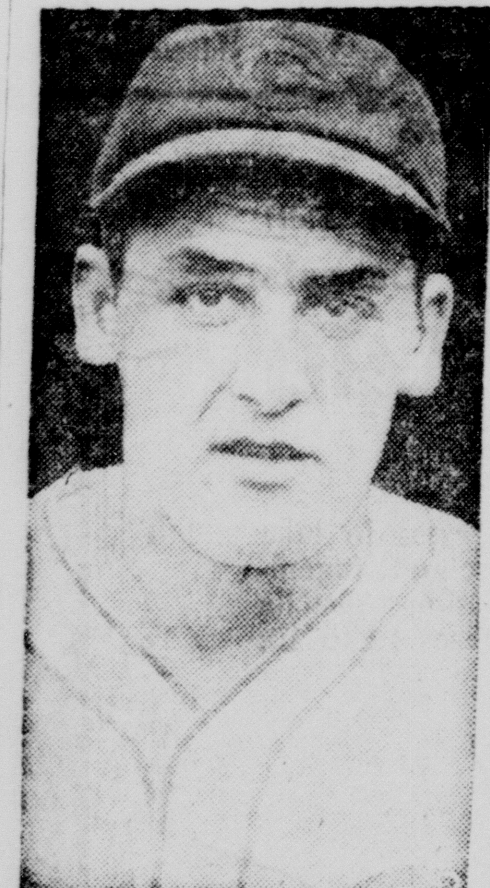

No less thrilling were the St. Louis Cardinals, who added two more victories to their season string by holding the Pittsburgh Pirates for two innings of a play-off game, then came from behind in the regularly scheduled contest to win, 8 to 6.

Sewell Is Loser
The incomplete game was the second of a double-header on July 18, broken off at the end of the seventh with the Cards leading, 6 to 5. The "ephus ball" pitcher, Rip Sewell, hurled those two innings for the Pirates and was charged with a 6 to 5 loss.

Mort Cooper was blasted for three hits, in the second inning which an error behind him transformed into three runs. He was then succeeded by Murry Dickson who got credit for winning the game. Stan Musial and Whitey Kurowski doubled in the fourth to push across a run for the Cardinals.

The see-saw battle ran right up to the ninth inning, when a three-run rally fell short for the Pirates. The Reds' Ed Heusser has pitched in all the A-1 AA and big league circuits.

Sold to Browns

At waiver price of $7,500, Al Milnar, above, has been sold to the St. Louis Browns by the Cleveland Indians. The big southpaw's work has been disappointing since he won 18 games in the 1940 season. (International)

Sports Ramblings

Sports Stew:—

Braced with part of Clark Shaughnessy's intricate "T" formation, "Dutch" Croft's Ellwood City high '43 grid tank moves down field for the first time Friday night against Zelenople. E. C. is at home and gets a loud vote . . . A week from tomorrow night, the Canes unhook at Taggart stadium . . .

In addition to the regular coaching staff composed of Chief P. H. Bridenbaugh, "Gig" Thomas, "Bill" Klee and Paul Cuba, four junior high mentors are passing along their football knowledge to Ne-Ca-Hi's Muddy Creek Falls squad. The quartet includes Austie Cowmeadow and George Binder, of Ben Franklin, and Art Alexander and Thomas P. Smathers, recently appointed Alex's aide at George Washington . . .

Another member of last season's New Castle football bombing squadron, Jesse Gunn, who scored consistent direct hits on the opposition from his fullback berth, has passed his exam and soon augments Uncle Sam's ever growing team . . . Jack Davis, Greenwood avenue, Roy Updegraff, Winter avenue, and Harry Horner, East street, are back home following a fishing junket through Canada and later Ashtabula, Ohio . . .

Assorted stuff—Remember back when major league games were strictly matinee affairs? And when the football season started with a news guy interviewing Alonzo Stagg at now grid defunct Chicago U.? . . . In a recent interview, Mel Ott was quoted as saying "some teams are poison to the New York Giants." Come, come Ott, some teams? . . .

Asked to name the top team in the country this season, Frank Leahy, Notre Dame foreman, says: "Michigan, Army, Navy, Northwestern and Georgia Tech—and don't you dare put Notre Dame in there." I defy idle thought. Couldn't "Babe" Dahlgren and "Buck" Newsom have a delightful time chatting about their major league travels? . . .

'Canes Speed Up Camp Workouts

Scrimmages Common Now; Coach Bridenbaugh Experimenting With 40-Man Contingent

(Special To The News)
MUDDY CREEK FALLS, Sept. 2.—Their opening game with Grove City eight days away, New Castle high's 40-man grid army is speeding up the tempo of Muddy Creek Falls workouts.

Scrimmages through a long session Tuesday afternoon, the Muddy Creek WPAAL defending champs were ordered through another rigorous drill yesterday afternoon following a morning practice staged under a scorching sun.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is sticking with the tentative lineup selected Tuesday. He, however, is experimenting and shifting the boys around. The pilot has emphasized the fact that the current eleven is merely the Muddy Creek Falls team. From now until the kick-off, the pilot expects to make several changes.

Lineup Is Unchanged
The varsity yesterday was comprised of German and Newman in the wings; Roussos and Sanfillipo at tackles; Joseph and Izzo at guard; and Preston at center. Lewis and Razzano shared the fullback chores; Dick McKee barked the signals and Williams and Falk filled the halfback shoes.

At the conclusion of another long drill, the squad tore into a big meal, rested and then gathered round for the usual study period devoted to learning the 'Canes plays and signals.

After two more practices today and Friday, the squad will hold the traditional camp breaking regulation on Saturday morning about 10 o'clock.

With the pleasure driving ban in the discard again, a few 'Canes followers were on hand for a look yesterday.

Illinois Football Squad Is Unique

Size, Speed, Experience Missing;
Roster Colorful; 36
Players On Varsity Roll

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 2.—The most unique squad in the history of Illinois football will take the field here September 11 for the opening game with Camp Grant.

The squad lacks size, speed or experience, but in some respects it is the most colorful ever put together here.

Among the 36 players listed on the varsity roster are a soccer player from Istanbul, Turkey; a boy who was born in a hurricane 19 years ago and was promptly and properly christened H. Hurricane Mitchell; a 151-pound freshman who may be the starting left halfback; one regular from last year and a host of newcomers.

Schedule Bumpy
The Camp Grant game will launch this heterogeneous group onto a 10-game schedule which includes the toughest teams in midwestern football: Notre Dame, Michigan, Northwestern, Purdue, Iowa Seahawks, Iowa, Ohio State and Wisconsin, plus an eastern foe, Pittsburgh.

Last year Coach Ray Eliot was described as a football magician who pulled rabbits out of his hat. This year the magician doesn't even have a hat. The main squad of 36 includes some 17-year-old freshmen, some V-12 students from the Illinois naval cadet group and some 4-F players rejected by the army. Coach Eliot also has a group of a dozen men who never before played football. They came out in response to an appeal to the student body made by Eliot.

MICHIGAN HAS 'EM
ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Fifty-two candidates reported the first day of football practice at the University of Michigan and 11 more the second to boost the total to 63 the Wolverines operated in marked contrast to some of the other Big Ten schools where but a handful of candidates were on hand.

FIGHT TONIGHT
(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 2.—South America's Jose Domingo Razo, planned to move up a notch in the featherweight division tonight by winning a scheduled ten-rounder at Harrisburg's Palestra against Billy Miller, the Pittsburgh bearcat.

Segura, Betz Cop In Tennis At Forest Hills

Seeded Players Hurdle First Round Tests In National Singles Tourney

(International News Service)
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—A giant shadow of the past looms today in the path of Francisco (Pancho) Segura, the Ecuadorian who will struggle to keep intact his six tournament winning streak when he faces Pvt. Byst Grant, of Jefferson Barracks, Mo., in the second round of the national men's singles championships.

Grant, the Davis cupper of a decade ago, and one of the most formidable netmen of his time surged back to his old strength in the first round of the singles tourney yesterday, when he defeated young John E. Sisson, of Los Angeles, 7-5, 6-2.

Segura Wins Easily
Segura, meanwhile, trampled over Princeton's Richard J. Bender, 6-3, 6-3. Bender was kept under strict control by Segura's unique two-handed smashes, which are expected to be a dominant factor in the tournament.

Should Segura get past the revived power of Grant, he faces still more trouble. Third-seeded Coast Guardsman John Kramer advanced into the second round, one match removed from Segura, by eliminating William E. Gifford, of Forest Hills, 6-1, 6-1.

Surprise was registered on the faces of those who saw Mrs. Eleanor Cushingham, of Brooklyn, put up an unlooked for struggle against Miss Pauline Betz, of Los Angeles, the defending women's singles champion. Pauline, thrown off guard by Mrs. Cushingham's hard play eliminated the Brooklynite, 6-3, 6-4, only after great difficulty.

Sara Palfrey Cops
Moving through the opening brackets of their respective divisions was the renowned Cooke family. Sarah Palfrey Cooke, the 1941 national champion, defeated Bela Garcia, of Cuba, 6-2, 6-0 while her husband L. Elwood Cooke, U. S. N., defeated Edward Ray, of Taft, Texas, 6-0, 6-1.

The famous tennis Falkenburgs of Hollywood, did not entirely share the good fortunes of the Cooke family. Bob Falkenburg eliminated Los Angeles' John Shea, 6-3, 6-4, but brother Tom was defeated by Sevorn Greenberg, of Chicago, 2-6, 6-2, 6-0.

Betsy Grant combined in the men's doubles with Tom Falkenburg, both going down in defeat before William Talbert, of Cincinnati, and David Freeman, of Pomona, Calif., 10-8, 6-3. Segura was also defeated in the doubles. Teamed with Harris Everette, Miami, Fla., Pancho's two-handed wallop was ineffective against the steady playing of Sevorn Greenberg and James Everett, Chicago, who won 6-4, 6-4.

Frankie Parker, runner-up for the 1942 singles title, combined with John Kramer to defeat Watson Washburn and Arthur MacPherson both of New York, 6-0, 6-3.

Sits And Wonders
Another thing he doesn't know is whether to call for the guanine or break out the champagne. In fact there are times becoming increasingly frequent of late when he dimly wonders why he never chose this comical, thankless career instead of going in for something substantial and useful; like, say, getting to be a crackjack bathtub salesman in East New York, N. Y., with nothing on his mind except junior's winter reffer and the second mortgage.

Anyhow, here's the way Waldorf's situation now stands: Yes, there are a number of stalwart young men on the campus who were transferred from Minnesota, Nebraska and the like—most of them with hell, hustle and big game experience and ambition. No, exactly 22 of them have been ruled off . . . for the present and perhaps for purposes of the future . . . because they haven't got passing grades in every subject in the Navy V-12 and Marine program.

Yes And No
"Yeh, 22." Mr. Waldorf agreed, dully as though just recently hit over the head with a canoe paddle. "Two full teams. Some of them may get passing grades in the exams they're taking now. But others, now eligible, may fall in the single subject which means no liberty—and no football."

"We'll know definitely who's in and who's out by September 7, when the marks are announced. But that'll only be for one month, when another set of examinations will create another list of ineligible. "Why, I'm not even counting on Otto Graham, one of our own boys who starred a year ago."

MERCER HORSE WINS AT BUTLER

(International News Service)
BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 2.—It took three heats to do it, but Katrina Volo, owned by Mark Duval, of Mercer, today finally held first-place honors in the half mile event at the Butler Fair.

Mision S., owned by B. Dempsey, of Columbus, O., twice tied the Pennsylvania horse before Katrina Volo won the third heat in 2:09 1/2.

In Select Circle

Arkie Vaughan, Dodgers' shortstop, is a new member of the 2,000-hit circle. Vaughan, who came up to the majors as a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1932, had 1,846 hits prior to this season's play. In 11 years in the majors he has 320 batting average, which places him among the top men of all time. His minor league experience was limited to one season with Wichita, where he hit for .338 in 1931. He won the National League batting crown in 1935 with .385. (International)

Jack Manders Can't Help Coach Panthers

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—Failure of Jack Manders, Chicago Bears' booting star, to get a leave of absence from a Windy City printing firm, today created a gaping hole in the Pitt coaching staff.

The Chicago pro was to have become backfield coach for the Steel City eleven.

"That was a real body blow," Coach Clark D. Shaughnessy admitted. "Manders was a key figure in my plans. He was very valuable last season at Maryland. I have no one else in mind who can take his place."

In view of the Indies' showing in the first half, the Zidowmen have been installed as the favorite. The Moose, which came back remarkably well following a somewhat shaky first half, looms as a good short end.

The rival pilots exuded words of optimism today and proclaimed their athletes primed for the big test ahead.

One of the biggest crowds of the season is expected to see the battle. If the game is postponed, the clash will be played Friday night.

The second tilt of the series is carded for Sunday afternoon on Lee avenue field.

NAZI AUTHORITIES SEEK NEW PUPPETS

Attempting To Form New Nazi-Controlled Government In Denmark

By STEN HEDMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
STOCKHOLM, Sept. 2.—German occupation authorities in Denmark were reported today to be trying vainly to form a new puppet government to take the place of the resigned Prime Minister Erik Scavenius and his cabinet.

Members of the Scavenius government, who are described as being "relatively free" in their actions, will have no part of negotiations with the Nazis.

Meanwhile, Denmark's minister to Sweden, Kruse, declared that he had informed the foreign office in Copenhagen that he and his legation consider themselves no longer bound by the Nazi-controlled regime and will henceforth "act independently."

Tight Censorship
Kruse said he had nothing to add to this statement, but admitted that the question of whether or not he would join the British council in London was still open.

The Germans have established a tight news censorship over the press and newspapers are now permitted to print only official news.

King Christian X is said to be in good health at his summer palace at Sorgenfri, while the crown prince is living at the Amalienborg palace in Copenhagen.

Reports that many hundreds of Danes have been killed in street fighting are said to be exaggerated. A few were killed and wounded in the provincial towns of Odense, Ring and Naestved and one officer of the guards was killed in Copenhagen, according to the latest advice.

Philosophy, Music And Marriage Books Sought By Soldiers

(Special To The News)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 2.—Student-soldiers at the Pennsylvania State College already have demonstrated that they possess a wide variety of reading tastes.

Since the coming of the military, attendance at the college library have filled requests for:

1. Current issues of philosophy periodicals.
2. Recent books on marriage.
3. Critical articles on symphonic music.

4. Complete works of authors like Thomas Wolfe, James Joyce, and E. E. Cummings, and

5. A copy of "The Wild Party" by Joseph Moncure March's poetic treatment of the roaring twenties.

One apparently unhappy soldier asked for a book on Pennsylvania's divorce laws, while another sought information on the Library of Congress and then flabbergasted the attendant by saying that he once worked there.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of OCD Workers Are Outlined Here

Frank Sargent, co-ordinator of the city OCD today requested all group leaders to contact their members and endeavor to have them and their families attend the outing Labor day, at Cascade Park. No doubt thousands will attend. However, it is the first real get-together of the city OCD and much good should result from the affair. There will be a First Aid demonstration, a vaudeville show and other attractions that should be pleasing.

The great man is an inspiration. Neighbors say: "If that ordinary looking guy can do it, so can I."

Twenty Million Cans Are Sought

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 2.—Pennsylvanians today were asked to collect 20,000,000 tin cans this month to fill the state's quota of 2500 tons to be sent to detinning plants.

That amount would be sufficient to make 10,000,000 syringes, tiny individual hypodermic syringes carried by servicemen, explained tin can salvage chairman W. Purvis Taylor.

"In determining our quota for September, we have fixed a minimum goal of an average of one syringe from every man, woman and child in the state," he said. "That means the salvaging of two tin cans for every one of our population during the month."

Describe Hess As Paranoiac

Border-Line Case Says London Paper In Discussing Capture

ASSERTS FLIGHT WAS OWN IDEA

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 2.—Rudolf Hess, Adolf Hitler's henchman who flew to Scotland two years ago on a "peace mission," today was described as a border-line paranoiac with a persecution mania.

In a story of Hess' daily life in captivity, the London Daily Mail said he is still an ardent disciple of Hitler but is fighting a losing battle for faith in Germany and the Reichsfuehrer.

He has not discussed the progress of the war since the Axis debacle in Tunisia and has not listened to war news since the fall of Sicily, the paper said.

Guarded Day And Night
Guarded day and night by a special force of officers and non-coms, Hess is attended by six medical orderlies and under the care of two specialists in a wing of a military hospital that was formerly an asylum for border-line lunatics.

He is not violent, but is convinced people are plotting against him and hears non-existent voices. He will not eat unless an officer shares his dish, the Mail said.

The former No. 3 Nazi does not smoke and drinks only water. Wine and beer, he says, "cloud the judgment." He likes pretty girls but rants if he sees rouge or lipstick on their faces.

Hess insists, the Mail said, that his flight to the British Isles was entirely his own idea and that he came to find quislings who would help him effect a separate peace with Britain so Germany could concentrate on defeating Russia.

INDUSTRY MUST GET CAPITAL FOR POST-WAR EFFORTS

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—Jobs for returning servicemen after the war will depend upon industry's getting the capital it needs for postwar adjustment, Jay N. Whipple, of Chicago, president of the Investment Bankers Association of America, declared Wednesday.

Addressing the annual convention of the National Association of Securities Commissioners, Whipple asserted there must be no bottlenecks preventing capital from flowing to every legitimate purpose after the war. The individual investors, he said, will be the most important source for capital for converting facilities, building new plants and rehabilitating equipment.

Economic Turmoil Threatens Nation

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Economic turmoil threatens the United States unless "spendocracy" and governmental "squandermania" are curbed. Dr. Melchior Palyi, noted Chicago economist, declared today.

Dr. Palyi, who was pre-Hitler monetary advisor to the National Bank of Germany, told the Chicago Rotary Club:

"The 'spendocrats' in Washington do not put a very good example before the people whom they beseech to economize and thus help curb inflation. If they would apply elementary business produce to government spending—including war spending—10 to 15 billion dollars could be saved each year."

ALLEGED ARMY DESERTER HELD ON TWO CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—An alleged army deserter, Pvt. Robert L. McIntosh, was apprehended by the FBI in New York Wednesday and charged with violating federal white slave and theft laws.

McIntosh, 33, a private in the Army Air Corps, has been listed as a deserter from his post at Liberal, Kan., since early this summer, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said.

He was charged by the FBI with causing hundreds of dollars in worthless checks from Milwaukee Wis., to New York City. The checks were drawn on banks in Detroit, his home town, where he had been expelled from a university for selling worthless stock.

McIntosh, according to the FBI, ran afoul of the white slave laws by transporting the wife of a prominent Chicago businessman into New York state for allegedly immoral purposes.

Says Soviet Has Been Kept Fully Informed On War

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The State Department on Wednesday issued a formal statement emphasizing that the Soviet government has been kept fully informed by the United States and Great Britain in regard "to all aspects" of the Anglo-American military situation as it has developed in connection with operations against Italy and other phases of the European war.

The statement added that the Soviet government also has been consulted and kept fully informed with respect "to political situations arising directly out of military operations."

Issuance of this statement followed a charge by a New Pearson, Washington columnist, that the Soviet government had not been consulted in connection with Anglo-American political plans for a defeated Italy.

Oust Bob Hope From Westminster Abbey

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 2.—Bob Hope was ordered out of the dean's yard at Westminster Abbey, but there were indications he would be permitted to come back today.

The famous movie and radio comedian, together with Burgess Meredith and a number of other performers, were planning to shoot some scenes for the film, "Welcome To Great Britain."

The film is being made under the auspices of the British Ministry of Information for presentation to American troops. But it seems that somebody neglected to get the permission of Dean Paul De Labilliere to use the courtyard.

The dean objected and gave Hope, Meredith, et al. half an hour to move out. An official of the Abbey's chapter office later explained that had permission been properly sought it would undoubtedly have been granted.

The purpose of the picture is to explain British behavior to the American soldiers.

Governor Sees No Sign Of War's End

(International News Service)
WEST CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 2.—Gov. Edward Martin said Wednesday there is no indication that the end of the war is near.

In an address to the army administration school at the West Chester State Teachers' College, the former 28th division commander, asserted:

"Do not be misled by the news from Europe or the South Pacific. There is nothing yet to indicate that our strongest foes are breaking. The enemy hopes for a negotiated peace, that he may renew the fight during the next generation. While we are battering at the outposts of his strength, there must be no let-up in production, training and morale."

"Never make the same mistake twice," he cautioned the assembled soldiers. "We were wrong in 1918. If we had followed the advice of our great military leader, General Pershing, if we had completed our work in World War One, this war might have been avoided. That mistake must not happen again."

'Shangri-La' Is Now In Aleutians

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—American air power in the Aleutians now is based as close to Japan as was the carrier Hornet when she launched Gen. Jimmie Doolittle's famed raid on Tokyo. Lt. Gen. John L. De Witt, commander of the western defense command, stated Wednesday.

"The initiative in the Pacific is now in our hands," the General said.

"As soon as possible we must hit right at the Japanese homeland. We can decide where we want to strike next. We are now a constant threat to the whole of northern Japan."

Speaking at a press conference in San Francisco, Gen. De Witt, newly returned from the Aleutians, emphasized that the United States can now carry the war in the Pacific to Japan, striking in places of its own choosing, and smashing at the Japanese homeland itself.
